

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The President stirred up a hornet's nest recently while reviewing the 1938 budget when he asked Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau why his revenue estimates continued to be so out of line with actual receipts.

"One reason," replied Morgenthau, "is the windfall tax. Wallace said we would get $100,000,000 from this source, but so far we have got only a dribble."

What Morgenthau referred to was the "unjust enrichment" or "windfall" tax passed by Congress in June, 1936, to recover the processing taxes turned over to manufacturers by the lower courts when the Supreme Court threw out the AAA.

These returned taxes totalled $100,000,000, and so far the Treasury has collected only the dribble of $7,500,000 from the "windfall" tax.

Shortly after this conversation, Secretary Wallace heard about it and immediately wrote his friend Morgenthau. The letter began "Dear Henry." But the remainder was far from cordial. In effect, Henry Wallace told Henry Morgenthau: "The money is there, all you have to do is go after it. Why not get busy?"

The job of collecting this tax belongs to Morgenthau's Internal Revenue Bureau, and part of the blame for its failure rests at the door of Morrison Shafroth, wealthy Denver socialite, who quit as the Bureau's Chief Counsel last summer when he objected to the Senate tax-dodging investigation.

Internal Revenue officials say that Shafroth, contrary to court decrees, ruled that manufacturers could pay wholesalers a portion of the recovered processing taxes. This order, they assert, vastly complicated an already super-complex collection job.

They also admit very frankly that the Bureau lacks competent personnel to deal with the problem.

Internal Revenue experts know all about income, corporation, estate and excise taxes, but are

LOWDEN TALKED OF AS CHAIRMAN G. O. P. PLANNERS

Washington, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee made a final canvas of sentiment among minority leaders in congress today on the choice of a man to head the party's proposed program committee.

Hamilton and the national executive committee will meet in St. Louis Monday to select the new committee, designed to draw up a program for rejuvenation of the once-dominant party. Hundreds of names have been suggested by Republicans from every state.

Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and long one of the party's acknowledged "elder statesmen," has been prominently discussed for the chairmanship. So have John D. Biggers, who is conducting the president's unemployment count, and John Henry Wigmore, dean emeritus of Northwestern University Law School.

Lowden was reported reluctant to serve because of his health.

Some congressional Republicans, critical of the entire proposal for a program committee, have refused to make any suggestions on its membership.

Hamilton, after conferring yesterday with Republican leader McNary of the senate, sent the legislators letters asking for suggestions and advice. McNary made no recommendations, but urged Hamilton to select someone not now active in politics.

Nudist Club Owner Sentenced To Ten Years In Prison

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Frank Wiley, 47, who police said was the proprietor of a nudist club, was sentenced today to one to 10 years in prison by Circuit Judge A. E. Fischer, who denied his petition for probation. Wiley pleaded guilty to a morals charge last week.

Raymond Carlson, former art projects supervisor for the works progress administration in Chicago, who pleaded guilty to a similar charge, will go to court Monday when Judge Fisher was expected to rule on his probation petition.

JEKYLL AND HYDE? Hollywood, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Clyde Cock, a droll character on the screen, is "domineering, selfish and impetuous," at home, Mrs. Alice M. Cook charged today. She asked for a divorce, custody of their 10-year-old daughter, Julia Ann, $600 monthly alimony and a share of $168,425 community property.

GRATEFUL OLD MAN GIVES ONE OF HIS EYES TO YOUTH WHO WAS KIND TO HIM

New Orleans, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The gratitude of an old man brought a present today to young Frank Chabina—an eye to supplant his own ruined by lime dust.

"Isn't that the sweetest thing that ever happened to anybody?" asked the Albany, La., youth who will be 20 years old tomorrow, following the operation in Charity hospital.

John Amos, the 67-year-old donor, seemed happy about it, too.

They had met in the hospital ward and acquaintance ripened into friendship. There they learned each other's story.

Chabina's left eye was sightless. A milky scar tissue gradually had shut out the light. Amos' eye, infected since removal of a cataract, was useless to him, but the cornea was unimpaired.

Out of the two impaired eyes the doctors thought they could restore the sight in Chabina's eye. They broached the subject to the old man, suffering from heart disease. He approved.

"Frank's been good to me," he told the doctors. "Not many young fellows would bother to cheer up an old fellow like me."

"If you figure one of my eyes can help Frank to see, I want you to take it and give it to him as a present."

So they wheeled the two men into the operating room yesterday. Doctors skillfully removed the perfectly good cornea of Amos' eye and put it in Chabina's left eye.

CHRISTMAS SUPERSTITIONS

A dread superstition in Bohemia is that if a housewife should be so unlucky as to burn a cake on Christmas Day, it is a sign she will die within the year.

WANT BIGGER LEVY

Bloomington, Ill.—(AP)—An increase in the township pauper levy from three to five cents per hundred dollars valuation was recommended in a resolution adopted by the McLean county board of supervisors. It will be forwarded to the state legislature.

RELIEF PROBLEM APPEARS AS WINTER COLD NEARS

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—In cross currents of criticism, the old problem of unemployment relief has made its customary appearance as a winter crisis, but this time it is being kept well away from the legislature's door.

While several groups investigate conflicting demands on the financing and administration of relief, Governor Horner reiterated today his position that it is a local matter, and said:

"The state is always ready to help if the local governments come to us with a plan as eliminating relief as one of the last emergencies that might require special session action by the legislature."

Horne said he was holding to previous pronouncements on relief:

Two Pronouncements

1. That the state should be ended as soon as possible, made at the state fair.

2. That the state, appropriating $72,000,000 a biennium to the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, is doing all it can financially. He said that in the autumn, before the business recession started, when Chicagoans expressed alarm over the relief outlook.

Some administration officials expressed the private view that the legislature, if called into special session, would refuse to increase taxes or appropriate surplus funds for relief. Downstate assemblymen, they said, object that Cook county is getting approximately three-fourths of the IERC's $2,900,000 monthly distribution.

The unofficial view at the state house has been that, with many communities downstate now taking care of the poor without state help, the others should be able to get through the winter.

Study Administration

Close study meanwhile has been given the problem of relief administration, the second phase of the unemployment controversy. It is

RESUME HUNT FOR WIFE OF WRITER

Monterey, Calif., Dec. 9.—(AP)—More than a hundred searchers with boats, deep-sea diving equipment and an airplane resumed their hunt today along the rocky Carmel coastline for Mrs. Martin Flavin, 54, missing wife of the Broadway playwright.

A canvas shoe, a blue half-sock and a camera, all believed by Flavin to have belonged to his wife, were found on a cliff above the sea where she went Monday to take pictures.

Officials theorized she slipped and fell into the sea.

RUSS COMMISSAR OF WAR RIDICULES Triple Alliance

Moscow, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Marshall Klementi E. Voroshiloff, Soviet commissar of war and navy, asserted today that threats of war against the U. S. S. R. thus far have been only the "boasting of impudent clowns."

In an election campaign speech at the Minsk garrison, he declared, however, there was need for further preparedness as "we don't know what people will begin war or on what day."

Voroshiloff's speech followed the declaration of Premier Yvacheslaff Molotov over the radio Sunday that Italy, Germany and Japan, in signing a pact against Communism, "join hands in order not to fall."

WOODEN LEG PROVES TO BE WORTH BIG SUM, STORY TOLD IN COURT REVEALS

New York, Dec. 9.—(AP)—This is the story of a wooden leg that was worth $88,000.

The principal characters were a one-legged Polish vice consul; Rose Laikin, Broadway dress shop proprietor; and Noah Goldberg, American ex-patriate in Vienna.

GERMAN ADMITS KILLING PRETTY AMERICAN GIRL

San Quentin, Calif., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Five men who were the first to be sentenced to die in California's new lethal gas chamber which replaces hanging, occupied separate cells today in San Quentin prison's condemned row.

The prisoners, Ed Davis, 35; Wesley E. Eddy, 33; Fred Barnes, 39; Lee Cannon, 23 and Albert Kessell, 28, were sentenced in Sacramento yesterday for the murder of Warden Clarence Larkin in an attempted break at Folsom penitentiary September 19.

FUGITIVE ARRESTED IN FRANCE FOR DEATH OF FIVE

Versailles, France, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The body of pretty 22-year-old Kean De Koven, Brooklyn dancer missing since last July, was found today buried under the porch of a St. Cloud villa to which police were directed by a 29-year-old German emigre.

The emigre, police said, confessed slaying her and four men because he needed money.

Police said the confessed slayer was Eugene Weidmann, who had come to France last to escape German military service. He led investigators to the suburban villa outside Paris, saying that two of his men victims also were buried there.

Police found a second body in a shallow grave in the cellar. It was identified as that of Arthur Frommer, one-time friend of the confessed slayer.

Weidmann listed as the men victims, besides Frommer, Raymond Lesobre, found dead 10 days ago in the "Cloud villa; a young man named Roger Leblond; and a taxi driver named Couffy.

Arrested After Fight

Weidmann was arrested at the St. Cloud villa yesterday after a gun fight with police.

Breaking down after hours of questioning, Weidmann was quoted as telling police he kidnapped Miss De Koven July 23 and took her to the villa, strangling her to death there next day.

Bodies Were Seen

The fire is believed to have started in the stone section of the house and to have spread through the rooms on the first floor, trapping the sleeping parents and their five children on the second floor. The bodies of the mother and five children could be seen through the flames before the floor collapsed, dropping them into a seething furnace which smoldered for hours afterward. Firemen and neighbors attempted to force an entrance to the burning structure to rescue the bodies, but were driven back by the flames and intense heat. All that remained of the mother and her five small children, which was taken from the ruins this morning, was a small basketful of bones, which was taken in charge of Dr. J. C. Aiken of Forrester, Ogle County coroner, and taken to the Farrell mortuary at Oregon. Dr. Aiken will conduct an inquest at Oregon next week.

Father's Condition Serious

Mrs. Large, who before her marriage, was May Rosenbaum of Oregon, and the following children perished in the flames: Donna Mae, two and one-half years of age, Jackie, three and one-half years; John aged five; Darlene, aged seven; and Louis, eight years of age. The husband and father was suffering from burns, exposure and shock today and was reported to be in a serious condition. Motorists who passed the home at 8:30 stated that they saw no indications of fire, and it is believed that the flames spread rapidly to all of the rooms of the first floor before the sleeping family was awakened.

NINE DIE IN FIRE

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Firemen dug the bodies of nine victims—seven of them children—from the ruins of a flame-raged tenement house early today.

A long search of the ruins failed to reveal any other victims in the old, two-story structure described by Fire Chief G. M. Johnson as a "fire trap."

The dead:

Mrs. McKinley Connalser, 35, and three of her children, Virginia, 6; Vallee, 4; and Luther, 12.

Mrs. Cora Tate, 56; her son, Eugene Tate, 17; and her three grandsons, R. L. Melton, 12; Junior Melton, 6, and James Earl Melton, 9.

AN EXPECTANT MOTHER ONE OF THE VICTIMS

Ogle County and Tennessee Scenes of Bitter Tragedies

A small basket of bones was all that remained of the bodies of Mrs. Glenn Large, 27, an expectant mother, and her five children today, all having been trapped in their burning home about five and one-half miles southwest of Oregon on the Ridge road about 9:30 last night. The husband and father escaped without burns but was suffering from exposure. He climbed through a window of the burning home and fell to the ground from the roof of the ice covered porch, then ran some distance to a neighboring farm house, where he aroused the family and summoned aid.

The home, which was on the Louis Haines farm estate, was a smoldering ruin within a short time and while the Oregon fire department hurried to the scene, its efforts were futile because of the shortage of water. Chief A. J. Beier of the Oregon fire department said that the fire probably started from an overheated stove or an explosion of the stove.

Was Old Structure

The residence was an ancient structure being partly constructed of stone, with a frame wing. The members of the family were asleep in the frame section of the second floor when they were awakened by the flames, which had spread throughout the first floor, cutting off escape by means of the stairway. Large climbed through a window to the roof of the porch and told his wife to hand the children out to him. He was clad only in his night clothing and was barefooted, slipping on the ice covered roof of the porch, a fall distance of about 15 feet to the ground. Regaining his footing he attempted to climb back on the porch roof, but was driven back by the flames which by this time had eaten their way through the walls and, whipped by the strong zero wind, made rescue efforts impossible. A neighbor, who was one of the first to reach the scene took Large to the Harold Haines home.

Breaking down after hours of questioning, Weidmann was quoted as telling police he kidnapped Miss De Koven July 23 and took her to the villa, strangling her to death there next day.

Bodies Were Seen

The fire is believed to have started in the stone section of the house and to have spread through the rooms on the first floor, trapping the sleeping parents and their five children on the second floor. The bodies of the mother and five children could be seen through the flames before the floor collapsed, dropping them into a seething furnace which smoldered for hours afterward. Firemen and neighbors attempted to force an entrance to the burning structure to rescue the bodies, but were driven back by the flames and intense heat. All that remained of the mother and her five small children, which was taken from the ruins this morning, was a small basketful of bones, which was taken in charge of Dr. J. C. Aiken of Forrester, Ogle County coroner, and taken to the Farrell mortuary at Oregon. Dr. Aiken will conduct an inquest at Oregon next week.

Father's Condition Serious

Mrs. Large, who before her marriage, was May Rosenbaum of Oregon, and the following children perished in the flames: Donna Mae, two and one-half years of age, Jackie, three and one-half years; John aged five; Darlene, aged seven; and Louis, eight years of age. The husband and father was suffering from burns, exposure and shock today and was reported to be in a serious condition. Motorists who passed the home at 8:30 stated that they saw no indications of fire, and it is believed that the flames spread rapidly to all of the rooms of the first floor before the sleeping family was awakened.

NINE DIE IN FIRE

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Firemen dug the bodies of nine victims—seven of them children—from the ruins of a flame-raged tenement house early today.

A long search of the ruins failed to reveal any other victims in the old, two-story structure described by Fire Chief G. M. Johnson as a "fire trap."

The dead:

Mrs. McKinley Connalser, 35, and three of her children, Virginia, 6; Vallee, 4; and Luther, 12.

Mrs. Cora Tate, 56; her son, Eugene Tate, 17; and her three grandsons, R. L. Melton, 12; Junior Melton, 6, and James Earl Melton, 9.

Fire swept the building shortly

AN EXPECTANT MOTHER ONE OF THE VICTIMS

Ogle County and Tennessee Scenes of Bitter Tragedies

A small basket of bones was all that remained of the bodies of Mrs. Glenn Large, 27, an expectant mother, and her five children today, all having been trapped in their burning home about five and one-half miles southwest of Oregon on the Ridge road about 9:30 last night. The husband and father escaped without burns but was suffering from exposure. He climbed through a window of the burning home and fell to the ground from the roof of the ice covered porch, then ran some distance to a neighboring farm house, where he aroused the family and summoned aid.

The home, which was on the Louis Haines farm estate, was a smoldering ruin within a short time and while the Oregon fire department hurried to the scene, its efforts were futile because of the shortage of water. Chief A. J. Beier of the Oregon fire department said that the fire probably started from an overheated stove or an explosion of the stove.

Was Old Structure

The residence was an ancient structure being partly constructed of stone, with a frame wing. The members of the family were asleep in the frame section of the second floor when they were awakened by the flames, which had spread throughout the first floor, cutting off escape by means of the stairway. Large climbed through a window to the roof of the porch and told his wife to hand the children out to him. He was clad only in his night clothing and was barefooted, slipping on the ice covered roof of the porch, a fall distance of about 15 feet to the ground. Regaining his footing he attempted to climb back on the porch roof, but was driven back by the flames which by this time had eaten their way through the walls and, whipped by the strong zero wind, made rescue efforts impossible. A neighbor, who was one of the first to reach the scene took Large to the Harold Haines home.

GERMAN ADMITS KILLING PRETTY AMERICAN GIRL

San Quentin, Calif., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Five men who were the first to be sentenced to die in California's new lethal gas chamber which replaces hanging, occupied separate cells today in San Quentin prison's condemned row.

The prisoners, Ed Davis, 35; Wesley E. Eddy, 33; Fred Barnes, 39; Lee Cannon, 23 and Albert Kessell, 28, were sentenced in Sacramento yesterday for the murder of Warden Clarence Larkin in an attempted break at Folsom penitentiary September 19.

FUGITIVE ARRESTED IN FRANCE FOR DEATH OF FIVE

Versailles, France, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The body of pretty 22-year-old Kean De Koven, Brooklyn dancer missing since last July, was found today buried under the porch of a St. Cloud villa to which police were directed by a 29-year-old German emigre.

The emigre, police said, confessed slaying her and four men because he needed money.

Police said the confessed slayer was Eugene Weidmann, who had come to France last to escape German military service. He led investigators to the suburban villa outside Paris, saying that two of his men victims also were buried there.

Police found a second body in a shallow grave in the cellar. It was identified as that of Arthur Frommer, one-time friend of the confessed slayer.

Weidmann listed as the men victims, besides Frommer, Raymond Lesobre, found dead 10 days ago in the "Cloud villa; a young man named Roger Leblond; and a taxi driver named Couffy.

Arrested After Fight

Weidmann was arrested at the St. Cloud villa yesterday after a gun fight with police.

Breaking down after hours of questioning, Weidmann was quoted as telling police he kidnapped Miss De Koven July 23 and took her to the villa, strangling her to death there next day.

TO EXHIBIT NEW STREAMLINER IN CHICAGO DEPOT

World's Finest Train To Be Shown On December 15

Chicago—The world's largest and finest streamlined train will be placed on exhibition in the Chicago & Northwestern railway station here on December 15. It was jointly announced today by the Chicago & Northwestern and Union Pacific, co-owners and operators of the new rail giant. The new train is now being assembled in the Pullman shops in Chicago and when finished thousands in the middle west will get their first glimpse of this new streamlined creation in the Chicago & Northwestern passenger station.

Following the exhibition in Chicago, the mammoth train—nearly a quarter of a mile long—will be taken to New York for a one-day exhibition, and then will follow a special inaugural run to Sun Valley, Idaho, with a throng of winter sports fans for the opening of the internationally-known winter sports center's season December 21.

New York Exhibition
Before it makes its run to Sun Valley the train will be put on exhibition at Grand Central station in New York City on December 18. The new train will also be placed on exhibition for two days in Los Angeles, December 24 and 25, and will make its initial run from Los Angeles to Chicago on December 27. It will observe a regular 39½ hours schedule between the two cities.

The "Ski Party" train will arrive at Sun Valley on the day the world-famous winter sports center in Idaho's Sawtooth mountains opens its second winter season and most of the passengers will remain over the Christmas holidays. Many will stay at Challenger Inn, the new hotel with moderate rates which has been built to complement the magnificent Sun Valley Lodge. Others will live at the Lodge with its famous continental atmosphere and metropolitan comfort.

The train will leave New York for Sun Valley at approximately 2:30 p. m. on December 19 to arrive at the south central Idaho resort about noon on December 21. It is expected that intermediate stops will be made to pick up passengers at Albany, Buffalo, Chicago, and Omaha, Neb.

Largest Streamline
The new City of Los Angeles is the longest streamlined train ever constructed. It will be 17 cars in entire length. It will be powered by the world's largest and most powerful diesel-engine passenger locomotive, itself composed of three cars with a total of 5,400 horsepower and capable of developing speeds in excess of 110 miles per hour.

The train which will make the world's longest run in quest of winter sports, is jointly owned by the Chicago & Northwestern railway and the Union Pacific railroad. A twin train to the new City of Los Angeles, the new City of San Francisco, will go into service shortly between Chicago and San Francisco. The latter is owned jointly by the Chicago & Northwestern railway, Union Pacific railroad, and the Southern Pacific railroad.

Travel Facilities
The new City of Los Angeles, as does its sister train, offers the most magnificent travel facilities yet devised for railroad service. Interior appointments are the most luxurious in modern railroad travel. All of the fabrics used throughout the train are of special designs and colors and the color in fabrics has been used much more boldly than is usual in trains.

The lighting has been carefully designed for the best illumination and the individual requirements of passengers have been provided for in a degree heretofore never achieved. Other features include two independent inter-communicating telephone systems, the most extensive telephone setup of its kind ever installed on a railroad train, and, of course, air conditioning in every car.

The Diesel locomotive newest marvel in railroad motive power, has been designed to give the fastest possible transcontinental transportation at the lowest possible maximum speed and with safety and dependability under all operating conditions.

Joseph Conrad, noted English novelist, was born in the Ukraine of Polish family and didn't learn English until he was an adult.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Text: I John 1:1-7;
Revelation 21:1-7
By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Christianity began in fellowship. Jesus drew to Him earnest men capable of devotion and interested in righteousness; and these men, inspired by His personality and teaching went forth to tell others of the Master whom they had found, and brought them to Jesus. He taught these new disciples by example and through living with them from day to day. They met upon a plane of humility. He asked from them no obsequious devotion; only the loyalty of those who responded to the teaching of love and grace.

The Christian church never comes nearer to its ideal, no matter how large it may grow or how extensive and varied its boundaries, than when it fulfills the simple principles of this early fellowship and brings men into relationships of love and comradeship.

This idea of fellowship is not confined to our lesson or to any one interpreter of the life and words of Jesus. John in his first Epistle, from which part of our lesson is taken, has given the very highest expression of the reality and privileges of Christian love. "If we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship with another."

Paul interprets the Christian experience in exactly the same way. Its nature and its climax are found in love, which is the theme of Paul's greatest sermon in the brief 13th chapter of I Corinthians. Paul lays stress always upon fellowship in the church. The church is a "household of faith." Its members have the close relationship in an ideal church of those in a common family.

All love is mystical in its nature. That is, there is something about it that is instinctive and intuitional, deeper than words and actions; though love would not be very real if it did not find expression in world and in actions.

This mystic bond of fellowship in Christ binds us to Him, and binds Christians to one another in a world where Jesus is no longer seen as the disciples saw Him and knew Him. The New Testament commends those Christians who had not seen Jesus but who loved Him.

That is the real love; not the response to the outward form, but the yielding of heart and mind to the teaching and example of Christ, so coming to know Him that he becomes the environment of one's very being.

This is what Paul meant when he said, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Old things have passed away. Behold, all things are become new." Christ becomes the true spiritual environment of the sincere disciple.

This earthly fellowship with Christ is the symbol and forecast of a larger heavenly fellowship, in which the ideals of love and truth and righteousness will find their fulfillment. We live in a world which, despite many loving and devoted souls, is still marred with sin and hate. But in this other heavenly world there will be the society of those whose hearts and lives are purified and who live in the glory of a great experience from which all evil passion and hate have vanished.

We call that heaven, and it would be a very real heaven if we could produce anything like that on this earth.

Plane Crashed Near Bloomington: Both Occupants Escaped

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—A diminishing gasoline supply was blamed today for the crash of an army biplane in a plowed field, six miles south of here, in which two fliers escaped injury.

The open cockpit, two-seat plane was described as a "total wreck." Foster and Hyland were trying to reach Chanute Field at Rantoul, Ill., because of bad weather which grounded many of the pilots homeward-bound from Miami.

Bob Davis, sportsman flyer, and Art Carnahan, Bloomington airport manager, sent word they were leaving their planes in the south and making the trip home today by train.

ANTIOCH CHURCH BURNS
Mount Carmel, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Plans were being made today to rebuild the Antioch Christian church, considered one of the finest rural churches in Wabash county, which was destroyed yesterday by fire as the congregation prepared for a bazaar. The loss was estimated at from $5,000 to $10,000 by church officials.

Cosmetics have been used by both men and women since earliest times.

The cranberry grows wild from Newfoundland to the Carolinas and westward to Wisconsin and Arkansas.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

FARM INCOME FOR 10 MONTHS HIGHER THAN '36

Increase In Illinois Is 36
Millions Above Last Year

Washington, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics estimated today the cash income of American farmers during the first 10 months of 1937 was approximately $751,000,000 above income for the same period last year.

It estimated the total income, including government payments, at $7,087,000,000 this year compared with $6,336,000,000 last year.

October income was placed at $911,000,000 compared with $904,000,000 for the same month last year.

The bureau said November and December incomes might not equal those of the same months last year because of lower prices and smaller marketings of some major commodities.

Government payments for the first 10 months of this year totaled $355,000,000, compared with $232,000,000 last year.

California led other states with a total estimated farm income of $521,531,000 for the first 10 months this year compared with $471,531,000 last year.

Estimates for other states in excess of $200,000,000 for the 10-month period this year and last, respectively, included:

Illinois, $402,969,000 and $366,642,000.
Iowa, $411,921,000 and $440,700,000.
Indiana, $244,682,000 and $218,578,000.
Wisconsin, $271,790,000 and $247,694,000.
Missouri, $227,415,000 and $208,942,000.

Joaquin Miller who wrote "Song of the Sierras" and other poems, was cremated when he died, and his ashes taken to the Sierras and scattered in the wind.

BRIGHT FUTURE SEEN FOR YOUNG CHICAGO SINGER

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(AP)—A bright future in grand opera was predicted by Chicago critics today for 18-year-old Beverly Lane after her operatic debut in "Rigoletto."

Salvos of applause from a packed house greeted the Chicago girl last night as she enacted the role of Gilda in the Chicago City Opera Company cast.

Most critics said her voice needed continued training and experience but all agreed she was a singer of great promise.

Edward Barry of the Tribune said Miss Lane "coped skillfully with the terrific and histrionic difficulties of the role."

Herman De Vries of the American said her triumph after the "Caro Nome" aria was deserved.

Robert Pollak of the Times said the youthful coloratura had the iron nerve, the poise and the voice to carve out her career anywhere.

"Remarkable possibilities," commented Eugene Stinson of the Daily News.

Daughter of a Hungarian meat salesman, Miss Lane was awarded a three-year contract after singing twice before Paul Longone, the opera company's impresario.

Last night's performance also marked the American debut of Juissi Bjorling, 26-year-old Swedish tenor, who took the role of the Duke. He, too, earned the plaudits of audience and critics alike.

Lawrence Tibbett, however, went the honors of the evening. He took the leading role.

Objectors Are—

no objection to the plant," the mayor said.

Plan Modern Construction

The plans call for a one-story brick building of modernistic design. The building is to be set back about 37 feet from the present curb line and the plot in front beautified with lawn and shrubbery.

Mr. Yale made it plain that the plant is not to be a slaughter house. No meat animals are to be killed at the plant. All slaughtering is done on the farms, he said, and the meat is brought to the plant to be cut up, frozen and stored in lockers until the farmers are ready to use it.

The meat is brought to the rear of the plant, placed in a chill room, then an aging room, finally out into a storage room, frozen in a sharp freezer room and stored in the owner's locker, to be called for when the owner wishes it. A well appointed reception room is planned in front of the building, since the women usually call for the meat, and all facilities of a modern rest room are to be provided.

"The farmers propose to build a neat, sanitary plant," Mr. Yale said. "The plans call for the most modern equipment available, and we would be glad to submit the plans of the sanitation equipment to the city engineer or any other competent authority. The plant also will be under state inspection. It will be sanitary, odorless and will not be the nuisance claimed for it in some quarters.

Favor Harmony

"The farmers of Lee county have no desire to antagonize the residents of Dixon. We wish to work in harmony and that is why this meeting was arranged. We had hoped the objecting property owners would acquaint themselves with our plans, and are very sorry they were unable to be present. We will be glad to have them visit the Amboy plant at any time and see just what a storage locker plant is like. I feel certain much of the opposition will be withdrawn when this is done."

Mr. Yale said plans would be left at the office of Mr. Wadsworth so that Dixon residents could see them at their convenience. He said several Dixon merchants have taken stock in the plant and that its location here should prove advantageous to local merchants. With some 450 farmers coming to Dixon for their meat they naturally will do their shopping in Dixon, Mr. Yale pointed out. Some of these farmers now have lockers at the Amboy plant and they drive through Dixon to Amboy to get their meat, he said, and usually do some shopping in Amboy at the same time.

The farm adviser said land rendering equipment for the plant would be the most modern steam jacketed kettles and the small smokehouse would use only hickory wood in curing meat, neither of which processes would create an odor or smoke nuisance.

Legal aspects of locating the plant there were discussed by Mr. Wadsworth, who said the sponsors had a legal right to proceed with construction but were anxious to talk over the plans with objectors in an effort to convince them that the plant would not be a nuisance or eyesore to the community.

West Frankfort School Closed To Await Inspection

West Frankfort, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Principal S. E. Sullivan announced today that because of the fall of five tons of plaster and lathing from the library ceiling, school was closed and probably would remain closed until Monday for a state inspection.

The plaster fell Monday at 7:55 A. M., destroying two tables and several chairs. Students said that had the ceiling collapsed 20 minutes later the room would have been occupied.

Holds My FALSE TEETH Tighter and Tighter

"I've tried several kinds of powders to hold my false teeth. When I tried FASTEETH I found the one powder that does not thin out or wash away, but 'stays put' all day." PUZZLE FOR CHIANG

Within a comparatively short time, probably, the Japanese army will have captured Nanking, capital of China. And in that connection will come the greatest test which Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's military genius has yet faced.

For capture of the Chinese capital would not necessarily mean the end of the war. China is large, it lacks the complex organization of most countries, and if Chiang refuses to sacrifice his army in a futile defense of his capital he can still give the Japanese plenty to worry about. Remember, as a parallel, that in 1865 it was the capture of Lee's army, not the capture of Richmond, which brought Grant's campaign to triumph.

What will Chiang do? An heroic "last stand" before the capital would be the obvious thing—but unless he has the wisdom to shun the obvious, Japan's victory in the current war is as good as certain.

FOR TRAFFIC IN THE AIR

Seven hundred thirty-eight cities have constructed airports at a total investment of more than $300,000,000, the American Municipal association estimates. A recent study of 116 municipalities shows that they have paid an average of $508,705 for purchasing, constructing, and extending their airports. Kansas City and Detroit each report an outlay of $5,700,000, while Norfolk, Neb., reported an expenditure of only $600.

Although air traffic has been increasing gradually, but phenomenally if we consider it from some standpoints, the business of owning and operating airports has not become great enough yet to put it heavily on the profit side. Like other infant industries, it must chalk up some losses before it can expect much profit.

Statistics herein quoted involve numerous ports that are not on lines of commercial carriers. Probably great hope lies behind establishment of every "landing field," and who shall say that it will not be realized.

STRIKE WASTE

Whenever a strike takes place and is followed by a settlement which both sides hail as eminently satisfactory, one is forced to wonder why the rival leaders could not have got together in the first place and saved the loss and bitterness of the strike.

They Greyhound bus case is an illustration. Some 1200 bus drivers in 16 states were affected. When the walkout began, both sides breathed forth defiance and announced that they would fight it out on an all-or-nothing basis. But a federal labor conciliator got the leaders together, and a compromise was finally reached. Each side had to retreat a little, and each side managed to do so gracefully; the strike ended, and both strikers and employers hailed the terms under which it ended.

What a tragedy, that this compromise could not have been reached a few days earlier so that the strike itself might have been avoided!

"BACHELOR" HUSBANDS AND KNOWING WIVES

That famous bridge expert who explained the crack-up of his marriage the other day by confessing sadly, "I am a married man with bachelor instincts," may have thought that he was owning up to a unique and deplorable trait. Unfortunately, however, he was not.

For the run-of-the-mill husband everywhere shares in that little failing—and there isn't a wife alive who doesn't know it. This, no doubt, explains the widespread feminine distrust of predatory blonds, and the wily habit of demanding a triple-edged alibi for any and all evening absences from the fireside.

It explains more than that. It explains the uncanny presence with which the little woman detects, in the brain of her spouse, those errant little fancies which ever and anon take shape there. She detects them, often enough, before the spouse himself is entirely aware of them—before they have gone farther, for instance, than a mental recognition of the fact that little Mary Jones looks uncommonly nice as she stands on the corner waiting for the bus, with the wind whipping her skirts.

Having detected them, she immediately files an accusation—leaving her better half with that peculiar feeling of baffled indignation which an accused man feels when he knows that he is innocent but knows also that the innocence is not exactly of his own contriving. He usually mutters dumbly about woman's intuition, not understanding that she has simply acted on the ancient truth—that man's roving eye operates independently of his will.

And there is where another score must be put down to the little woman's credit; for she knows (without being told) that while hubby does have an incurably foot-loose nature, it isn't really his fault and in nine cases out of ten he never actually does anything about it.

Which, of course, is what makes the whole business endurable and keeps modern society on an even keel. For these bachelor instincts, inborn though they are, are after all pretty superficial. Life holds few more truly comic sights than that of the ordinary house-broke husband who, nourishing the idea that he would like to be a gay blade and a tempestuous lover, suddenly runs into a lady who is perfectly willing to take him at his word.

The haste with which he scampers back to home and fireside, listening devoutly to the while to the promptings of his better nature, is something to ponder over.

All of these truths the man himself knows only when he has spent much time in meditation; but the woman knows them from the beginning, without even bothering to formulate her knowledge. She knows, that is, that the whole history of marriage is really nothing more than the story of woman's long effort to drive a little civilization into the male of the species. By and large, she has done a pretty fair job at it.

So when she hears someone confess solemnly that he is "a married man with bachelor instincts," she can only say: "Well—so what?"

ASK JUDGE TO GO EASY ON A YOUNG CONVICT

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(AP)—A murderer and 20 other hardened criminals who learned "you can't beat the game" asked a judge to go easy on a 20 year old fellow prisoner in trouble for the first time.

The youth was Alfred Schiller, awaiting arraignment on a charge of complicity in tampering with an automobile. His attitude while in the cellblock with the 21 others convinced them, they wrote the court, that:

"He is repentant for the crime he has committed, and if allowed to return to his home and his employment, we believe that he will become a useful member of society."

They said their careers started with some trivial offense and they felt their plight due to "the fact that when at his age we did not realize that 'you can't beat the game'."

Judge Francis Borelli, of whom the signers asked leniency for Schiller, said "It is very unusual for persons so deep in crime to see that experience to help a boy fallen for the first time. Their experience should be a lesson to you."

Heading the list of signers was James Pogue, under sentence to 199 years imprisonment for murder of two policemen.

Schiller's case was continued until Dec. 21 to allow the judge to investigate personally.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Of course each person as a characteristic walk that indicates some of his mental and emotional habits. A woman can tell her husband's walk as far as she can hear it—so can a sweetheart. A vigorous walk probably indicates energy and decision; a slow, methodical walk, a slow, cautious, ponderous character; a pompous, swaggering walk, a pompous, egotistical make-up, and therefore, a person with an inferiority complex. However, no work has been done to reduce these impressions to scientific tests.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Nothing tests whether college has given a girl real education or merely a "liberal" education, than to put her into a business office. Unless her education has taught her the two things education usually leaves out—emotional maturity and getting along with all sorts of people and conditions, she is likely to expect special consideration. When the boss asks for a bunch of papers down in some old dirty files she balks and doesn't do it with a smile and when the non-college girl assumes to be her equal she becomes hoity-toity and makes it hard for herself.

VAILE AND O'MALLEY

SENATOR URGES GET-TOGETHER OF INDUSTRIES

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 9 (AP)—Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D-Mont.) said in an address last night that "if business, farm and labor leaders assert that by patriotism and honesty America can establish a prosperity example that will be chronic in world history."

He urged American citizens to pay more attention to economics and political problems, adding that "unless there is a moral awakening, I'm fearful of what will happen in the days to come."

Speaking before the Peoria Association of Commerce, Senator Wheeler advocated a "get-together" between business, farm and labor leaders and the government.

"The conference," he said, "must be for the good of the country as a whole and delegates should not have their tongues in their cheeks or the outcome will go for naught." Senator Wheeler, who led opposition to President Roosevelt's Supreme Court reorganization plan, urged his listeners to "forget mistakes."

"Look to the future," he said. "Bring about improved conditions among the lower one-third, those who would be facing starvation were it not for government relief."

Noted Authority On Social Living To Talk at Amboy

Mrs. Margaret Wells Wood of the State Department of Health at Springfield will speak at the Amboy township high school Monday, Dec. 13.

Mrs. Woods, besides being an authority on the subject of social hygiene, is one of the most outstanding speakers all over the United States and comes to Amboy under the auspices of the Amboy Woman's club and the high school. She will speak to the students in the afternoon at 1:15 and to the parents and people of the community at 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

Educators in high schools and colleges of Illinois are unanimous in their approval of the manner in which Mrs. Wood presents to students the subject of "Social Living."

Her forceful delivery, pleasing personality, convincing presentation and unquestioned sincerity indicates to the student body the desirability of the social ideals for the relationship between the sexes leading to sound family life and worthy parenthood.

With the parents Mrs. Wood will discuss the needs and problems of child training as they affect not only the family life, but the relationship of the family to the community. Individuals with specific problems will have an opportunity for personal conferences following the meeting.

Child Welfare Is Study of League Of Women Voters

Concentrating its efforts now on educating members of the Illinois League of Women Voters on the question of child welfare services, the Department of Government and Child Welfare, through its chairman, Mrs. Hasseltine Byrd Taylor, today issued a skit on Aid to Dependent Children. "Among the child welfare services in which our support program is interested," says Mrs. Taylor, "probably none effects so large a number of children, nor would assist so large a number, as bringing the definition and administration of Mothers' Pensions in Illinois into conformity with the requirement for aid to dependent children under the Social Security Act."

Mrs. Taylor, in making this the item for particular emphasis in the department, states: "If you are troubled by the relief situation in Illinois, you will find this measure a step in its solution. If you are distressed because dependent children are sometimes sent to state institutions for delinquents because of inadequate county facilities for dependent children, you will find this measure a partial answer. If you are grieved for widowed mothers having to place their children in institutions because of inadequate resources for the maintenance of home, this measure will offer the greatest solution."

"Dependent children in your community should not be deprived of home care because of our lethargy in bringing to their aid the resources for which we are already being taxed to provide, nor because of vested interests in keeping the administration of Mothers' Pensions in one place or putting it in another. As a League our contribution can be made in obtaining sound administration and adequate support for needed child welfare services."

In tracing the history of Mothers' Aid in Illinois from 1911, Mrs. Taylor finds some shortcomings. Because the Illinois law is permissive and because the financial support and administration are dependent upon the decision of each county, the administration of this assistance has been "spotty." Some counties have appropriated insufficient funds to carry out the purpose of the law. When in 1929 the legislature appropriated $500, 000 for aiding counties in providing these pensions, the Department of Public Welfare aided first those counties best able to help themselves rather than the poorest counties. In 1931, this was in part remedied by providing three sub-funds. A few counties have never used this law. During the depression many counties stopped taking new applications.

One of the grants offered to the state by the Social Security Act is for aid to dependent children. Illinois cannot accept this offer until we amend our law making the granting of this aid mandatory on every county and transferring its administration to county departments of public welfare.

Silver Wedding Anniversary of Couple is Feted

The beautiful new and modern home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bevilacqua at Nelson, was the scene of an enjoyable gathering last evening when friends numbering more than 200, assembled to assist the worthy couple in the celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. In addition to many gifts of silver and beautiful flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Bevilacqua were the recipients of a huge silver tray which contained presents of silver coins.

The center of attraction during the evening, was the huge three tier cake, which stood almost 12 inches high, which was baked by Mrs. Serephine Pererri and daughter, Miss Nita, who with Louis Bevilacqua of Chicago, were out of town guests. Another attractive and appropriate gift, was a fancy loaf of pastry, prettily decorated, in the center of which appeared a new silver dollar, the handwork of Mrs. Anthony Kalas of Dixon. A huge bouquet of chrysanthemums, surrounded by silver eucalyptus was an admirable remembrance from Louis Knick of Dixon. There were numerous other presents from guests and friends.

During the height of the evening's festivities, a mock wedding provided mirth for the guests, when Mrs. Edward Origiesen, as the gaily bedecked groom, bearing on his arm, Ernest Frerichs, the charming bride, descended the stairs to the parlor, where they took their position before the fireplace. Miss Nita Pererri of Chicago, carried the train of the bride's flowing veil and Mrs. Lawrence Coppotelli carried a pillow on which reposed the wedding ring. In a solemn tone, the mock rites of a single ring service was pronounced by E. L. Palmer, who represented the character of a local justice of the peace.

Throughout the evening, refreshments were served and a joyous time was spent in the hospitable home of the honored couple, who were recipients of best wishes of all their guests for many more happy anniversaries.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON—Mrs. A. F. Moore and Mrs. F. L. Hamilton entertained with a luncheon today followed by bridge.

Ladies of G. A. R. Elect Officers

The Ladies of the G. A. R. held their regular meeting Monday evening with a very good attendance and after the regular opening exercises and business was taken care of the election of officers for the coming year was held and the following were selected:

Sr. Vice Pres. Zella Corning
Jr. Vice Pres. Lillian Harper
Treasurer Florence Onnen
Chaplain Addie Eastman
Pat. Instr. Dorothy Wernick
Registrar Sadie Ayres
Conductor Ruth Smith
Asst. Condr. Catherine Gorton
Guard Josephine Alshouse

Other appointive officers will be named later. An invitation was received from the Woman's Relief Corps inviting the ladies to attend an anniversary celebration and picnic dinner to be held Friday evening at 6:30. A flag was presented Tuesday afternoon to the fourth grade of the Woolworth school, of which Miss Johnson is the teacher. A picnic supper and Christmas party will be held at the next meeting Dec. 20, also a grab bag and each member will please bring a ten cent gift. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

On Thursday evening, Dec. 2, a special meeting was held for the purpose of inspection at which time Department President Dr. Ethyl Richardson and the department corresponding secretary, Adella Brinkmeyer of Quincy, Ill., were present. Refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed after the meeting.

League of Women Voters Will Meet Monday Afternoon

The League of Women Voters will hold its December meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Morris, 711 East Fellows street Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Commissioner Cal G. Tyler of the department of public health and safety will talk on the subject, "Problems of Our City Government." This talk will be of vital importance to all who are making their homes in Dixon. Not only league members but all who are interested are urged to attend this meeting.

Dixon Woman and Ashton Man Wed On Thanksgiving

A very pretty but simple wedding was solemnized at Clinton, Ia., at high noon on Thanksgiving Day, when Mrs. Estelle M. Nelson of Dixon and Frank A. Gleim of Ashton were united in marriage by Rev. J. C. Hoffman of the First Methodist church of Clinton.

Only a few immediate relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a lovely creation of new non-crush velvet with gold accessories.

The couple have just returned from a brief honeymoon during which they visited the International Livestock Exposition and many other interesting sights.

Book Review Given By Miss Eustace

Miss Anne Eustace pleased a large audience Monday afternoon at St. Luke's Guild room with her book review of "And So—Victoria" by Vaughan Wilkins.

This novel deals with the time in English history of about 100 years ago and it is interesting to note the many reforms politically and socially instituted since then.

Miss Eustace handled the subject in a very interesting and enjoyable manner.

The next book review will be given by Mrs. W. S. McColley in the music room of the high school early in January.

MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the Mothers' council of Grace Evangelical church, scheduled for Friday afternoon, has been postponed until Dec. 17, because of the death of Mrs. Anna Stewart.

TO PRACTICE FOR CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The children's division of the Grace Evangelical church school will meet at the church at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon to practice for the Christmas program.

Picnic rules will be observed and each member is requested to bring a dish to pass. The hostesses will furnish the meat, coffee, cream and sugar.

The committee requests all members who have dolls to bring them for the exhibit.

The House and Garden committee is composed of Mrs. Howard Edwards, chairman; Mrs. Lex Hartzell, Mrs. Arthur Morris, Mrs. Kreider Woods, Mrs. Harry Edwards, Mrs. Burl Lepird, Mrs. W. B. Richardson, and Mrs. Charles Willett.

Corinthian Class Enjoys Christmas Party Yesterday

Fifty members and guests of the Corinthian class of the M. E. church met with Miss Lorraine Missman of 818 Brinton avenue yesterday. A delightful Christmas party was held.

Mrs. Frank Thompson, class president, presided and Miss Gladys Smith led the devotionals. Mrs. C. C. Rorick, class teacher, presented Mrs. A. I. Hardy who very capably gave an entertaining book review of "The Rolling Years" by Turnbull.

This novel of merit was presented in the usual fine manner of Mrs. Hardy and was very much appreciated by her audience. A beautiful Bible was given to Mrs. Hardy by the class.

Between episodes Christmas carols were sung and light refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated Christmas table. Mrs. Howard Byers and Mrs. S. W. Lehman, a former M. E. Sunday school teacher, poured.

Hostesses for this delightful affair were Miss Lorraine Missman, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. C. C. Rorick, Mrs. Royal Johnson and Mrs. P. O. Heckman.

WHITE SHRINE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Corinthian Shrine, No. 40, White Shrine of Jerusalem will enjoy its Christmas party Friday evening, Dec. 10. There will be a stated meeting at 8 o'clock followed by a Christmas program, cards and refreshments.

HIGHLAND AVENUE CLUB TO MEET

The Highland Ave. Club will meet next Tuesday evening with Mrs. Norman Dietrich, 1018 Highland avenue. A grab bag, for which each member will take a gift, will be a feature.

Interesting Meet Of Sugar Grove P. T. A. Enjoyed

The last meeting of the Sugar Grove P. T. A., held December 2, was attended by about 55 children, parents and friends. After the minutes of the previous meeting and the committees for the January meeting were read, the program chairman announced the following interesting program:

Double duet—Eighth grade girls.
Music by rhythm band—Seven primary pupils.
History of writing "America, the Beautiful"—Read by Lois Johnson.
Piano duet—Eleanor and Elaine Hummel.
Piano solo—Lorraine Grobe.
Thanksgiving exercise—Glen Swartz, Charles Boos, Martin Ebert.
Piano solo, "Burning of Rome"—Helen Butterbaugh.
Piano solo—Lois Johnson.
Vocal duet—Eleanor and Elaine Hummel.
Illustrated talk, "Journey to the Southland and Sunny Florida"—Supt. L. W. Miller.

The colored views shown of many historical places enroute to Florida, the beautiful drives, fruit orchards and other interesting pictures with Mr. Miller's vivid description of them gave everyone a desire to visit this wonderful sunny Southland.

After announcing the Christmas program and adjournment, tempting refreshments were served.

SECOND CONCERT

The second concert of the Dixon-Freepoint winter series will be held at the Freeport Consistory Temple tonight at 8:30. It was announced this morning by F. A. Hanson.

WAR ADMIRAL VOTED YEAR'S BEST HORSE

Unanimous Choice In Poll; He Won $166,500

Baltimore, Dec. 9.—(AP)—War Admiral, unbeaten three-year-old owned by Samuel Riddle of Philadelphia, today was awarded the turf's highest honor when he was judged the outstanding race horse of the year by 256 sports writers.

Although they never met in what would have been the race of the year, the Admiral and Mrs. C. S. Howard's four-year-old Seabiscuit staged a nose finish in the poll conducted by the Turf and Sport Digest. Only 18 votes separated them in the final count.

War Admiral, a son of Man O' War, polled 621 votes on the basis of three points for first, two for second and one for third. Seabiscuit, himself a grandson of Man O' War, received 603. The pair had the race all to themselves as William Ziegler, Jr.'s Esposa, which finished third, tallied only 140 points.

Won Eight Races

The Riddle Ace, winner of eight races, including the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes, and $166,500, easily won the three-year-old title. He was the first choice of every writer for that honor, and outdistanced T. P. Morgan's Texas-owned Heffly 768 to 311 votes. Third place in the voting for the three-year-olds went to Shandon farm's Burning Star with 237.

Although no provision was made for naming the champion of the handicap division, it was decided to award a special plaque to Seabiscuit's San Francisco owner.

There was no argument over Hal Price Headley's Menow being the outstanding two-year-old of the year.

The race for two-year-old fillies honors was a close two-horse affair, with Mrs. Edward Friendly's Jacolia of Warrenton, Va., getting the decision over the Wheatley stable's consistent Merry Lassie. The vote was 642 to 524.

STEVE O'NEILL NEW MANAGER BUFFALO NINE

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Buffalo International league Bisons have a new boss—square-jawed Irish Steve O'Neill.

John Gehm, president of the club, said today the board of directors had returned O'Neill for the next two years as a field and business manager.

Details of the contract were not made public. It was closed last night at a special meeting of the board of directors.

O'Neill succeeded Ray Schalk as field manager and Leo T. Miller who resigned several weeks ago, as business manager.

At the conclusions of arrangements, the five-foot-ten, 212-pound catcher and former Cleveland Indians manager accepted congratulations and made for a telephone, where he called his wife at their Cleveland Heights home.

No Stranger

O'Neill is no stranger to the International league. He caught for Toronto's 1926 team that won the flag and went on to cop the Little World Series from Louisville in five straight games.

He returned to manage the Toronto team in 1929, 1930 and 1931. O'Neill had a long catching record with the Cleveland club, having caught more than 100 games a season for 10 straight years. He also managed the Toledo club before he was recalled to the Indians in 1935.

The Bisons' new manager said yesterday he favors adoption of a slower ball, making for pitching duels and a return to a tighter style of play.

Paw Paw, Lee Center Win First Round Contests in Green Valley Cage Meet

Former Stamps Self As Outstanding Challenger

(Telegraph Sports Service)
Franklin Grove, Dec. 9.—Lee Center and Paw Paw advanced into the semi-final round of the Green Valley conference basketball tournament here last night, the former edging out Franklin Grove in an overtime battle 31 to 26, and the latter drubbing Compton 57 to 12.

Tonight, Steward will engage Lee at 7:30 P. M. and Ashton will attempt to upset Rollo, defending champion, at 8:30 P. M. In the second round bracket games of the first round. The semi-finals will begin at 7:30 P. M. tomorrow evening.

Scores 13 Points

Against Lee Center, Hatch, Franklin Grove's speedy forward, managed to score thirteen points for high honors of the game, with Foster of Lee Center getting twelve by six goals. At half time Franklin Grove held a slim 9 to 8 advantage which Lee Center erased in the second half. J. Coss of Paw Paw ran wild against Compton with nine baskets. Martin and Urish were also high tally-makers with eleven and ten points respectively. Compton had no chance from the beginning. Paw Paw stamped itself as the outstanding challenger for Rollo's crown at least until more indication of possible winners is given by the results of tonight's games. A good crowd was present, despite near zero weather and high winds.

In the Lee Center-Franklin Grove game, the score was tied 24 to 24 at the end of the regular playing period. Foster made a bucket for Lee Center in the overtime period and Gehant followed with two more.

STOPPING SAM BAUGH BEARS BIGGEST TASK

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(AP)—"Bottling up" maneuvers to stop the Washington Redskins' sensational forward passer, Slingin' Sammy Baugh, will be the Chicago Bears' major task when they battle the easterners for the National Professional football championship at Wrigley field Sunday.

George Halas, coaching genius and owner of the Bears, is basing his strategy on a belief that if Baugh's passes are checked Washington's offense also will be checked. He also figures Cliff Battles, rated as the greatest running back in the National league for at least five years, will be stopped if Baugh's passes aren't clicking.

Bears Rush Passer

The Bears' mentor believes the best defense against forward passes lies not so much in alert rushing by defending backs as in rushing the passer. No forward passer, Halas says, is quite as effective when he sees two or three big chargers bearing down on him at top speed, ready to knock his blommers off the instant they connect. And the forward passer is even less effective after he had been knocked down a few times, Halas opines.

So Coach Halas makes no secret of his plans to bottle up Baugh, who has set a new passing record by completing 81 out of 171 attempts for a total yardage of 1,127. He wants his forwards to force Baugh to hurry his tosses, disturb his aim and take some of the fight out of him by hard tackling.

Harry Barr of Ill. CommerceBodyDead

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Harry A. Barr of Urbana, member of the Illinois Commerce Commission for four years, died suddenly at his hotel here last night.

Death was attributed to heart disease.

Barr, who was about 45 years old, had been active in Democratic party affairs for many years. He was graduated from the University of Illinois law school in 1922.

After the death of Lott R. Herrick of the state Supreme Court, Barr was among several attorneys mentioned as his possible successor. He formerly was Democratic county chairman and was associated with the Urbana law firm of Dobbins, Dobbins & Thomas.

He is survived by his widow.

Little All-American Team Indicates Small College Teams Strong

All Colleges Have En- rollments Less Than 1000

BY ALAN GOULD

New York, Dec. 9.—(AP)—This year's "Little All-America" football selections, compiled today by the Associated Press, gives special emphasis to the strong brand of small-college competition in the south and its neighboring cornbelt. There's no special monopoly on class in this respect, notwithstanding most of the unbeaten small-college teams this year are to be found in the Mississippi valley expanse of gridiron activity.

The combined south and southwest constitutes five of the "big little fellows" on the 1937 aggregation. Three represent the middle west, while the east has two delegates and the far west one.

The "Little All-America" not only combines plenty of speed, power and deception, but lists a number of standouts whose names may draw professional headlines in another year or two.

Seldom has there been a better crop of small-college backs. So swift was the race for honors that one of last year's choices, Dick Weisgerber of Williamette, failed to repeat. Weisgerber and his running mate, Billy Beard, shared offensive honors for the little Oregon school, but did not quite measure up to the class of their main rivals, on the season's records.

Hardin-Simmons Back Fast

Joining Albright's Captain Dick Riffle, only backfield repeater, is Burns McKinney, 160-pound sparkplug, Jack-Rabbit runner and crack passer for the Hardin-Simmons team that is unbeaten for the second year; and two fullbacks, Wendell Butcher of Gustavus Adolphus (Minn.) and Clay Calhoun, captain of the Loyola team of New Orleans. Butcher, a powerful game runner and blocker, played 18 games in three years without a substitution. Calhoun, despite little support, was a standout against every opponent as a line-plunger, blocking and defensive back.

Other backs who came highly recommended include Gaylon Smith of Southwestern (Tenn.), Captain Devon Payne, a 160-pounder at Louisiana college who scored twice against the strong Centenary team; Ray Burnett, ace of the unbeaten Arkansas State Teachers; and Johnny Oelerich, a ball-carrying terror for undefeated St. Ambrose of Iowa.

A former fullback, Wallace Johnson of Austin college (Tex.), was selected as pivot man for a line averaging 195 pounds from end to end. Johnson was rated the best lineman in the strong Texas conference. Outstanding also is Wayne Godard, star tackle on Cape Girardeau's (Mo.) unbeaten-untied team. The only repeater in the line is Douglas Oldershaw, brilliant guard from Santa Barbara, who edged out another west coast contender, Elliott Becken of Williamette.

Line Zig-Zags

Obviously, the dividing line separating the Little All-America field and talent of their big league brothers zig-zags. In general, it is a requirement in making the Associated Press selections that the college represented play a majority of its games in its own class and that enrollment should not exceed 1,000 male undergraduates. All the players picked for this year's eleven qualify on these points. In most cases, the student body represented does not exceed 500.

Although they do not play big time schedules, schools like Western Reserve and Brooklyn college have been omitted from the Little All-America class because of their huge enrollment. On the other hand, there are small enrollment colleges, such as Gonzaga, which play major league schedules and are also omitted. Texas Tech, whose captain, Herschel Ramsey, was a Little All-America end in 1935, has taken itself out of consideration by moving into major competition.

Here are the facts on the "Little All-America" lineup:
(Position, player and college, weight, height, home town.)

End, Harry Kline, Emporia (Kans.), Teachers, 190, 6:01, Elm-dale, Kans.

Tackle, Wayne Godard, Cape Girardeau (Mo.), 192, 6:02, Anna, Ill.

Guard, Elmer Cochran, Murray (Ky.), Teachers, 174, 5:11, Paducah, Ky.

Center, Wallace Johnson, Austin (Tex.), 200, 6:00, Athens, Tex.

Guard, Douglas Oldershaw, 160, 5:11, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Santa Barbara, 190, 6:00, Bakersfield, Calif.

Tackle, Walter Riddle, Birmingham-Southern, 212, 6:00, Wilsonville, Ala.

End, William Smith, Marshall (W. Va.), 200, 6:02, Williamson, W. Va.

Q-Back, Burns McKinney, Hardin-Simmons (Tex.), 160, 6:00, Wichita Falls, Tex.

H. Back, Richard Riffle, Albright (Pa.), 186, 6:01, Corning, N. Y.

H. Back, Wendell Butcher, Gustavus Adolphus, 192, 6:01, Worthington, Minn.

F. Back, Clay Calhoun, Loyola of South, 185, 5:10, New Orleans.

DIXON PREACHER SEEKS REACTION OF HIS PEOPLE

Rev. Herbert J. Doran Sends Questionnaires to Listeners

An effort to find the most popular and most helpful sermon themes for discussion in the Dixon Presbyterian church is being made by Rev. Herbert J. Doran, pastor. Several weeks ago members of the congregation were given sermon ballots which listed forty subjects for sermons. They were asked to check those which they found most interesting or helpful. The six themes which receive the highest votes will be discussed from the pulpit during the months of December and January.

Three of the subjects which have received high votes are as follows: "How to Read the Bible Intelligently," which was discussed last Sunday morning; "How to Make the Most of Ordinary Abilities," which will be the sermon theme next Sunday morning at 10:45; and "Is There a Conflict Between Science and Religion?" which will be discussed on Dec. 26.

The pastor is asking that the public assist in choosing the remainder of the most popular sermon themes. Listed below are the forty topics. Check over the list, marking those most helpful to you personally, and mail to Rev. Herbert J. Doran, Dixon Presbyterian church. Or if you prefer jot the title numbers on a postcard. An invitation is extended to all to participate in the voting and to attend the services at which the subjects will be discussed.

P. M. A. MEMBERS DENY PICKETS DRANK LIQUOR

Quincy, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Two members of the Progressive Miners of America denied yesterday that union pickets consumed liquor while patrolling property of the Mine B coal corporation of Springfield.

William Braddock and William Vincent testified at a Federal court hearing on a motion by the company for a permanent injunction to restrain picketing by the P. M. A. that they saw drinking parties in the company's office building. They said mine officials and women participated.

William Sitton, a witness for the company, testified Tuesday that he counted 1,327 empty liquor bottles on the mine's property after the pickets withdrew.

Christmas

World News Takes in Items Concerning the Yuletide

WARNING ISSUED
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—A warning against the use of lighted candle or inflammable decorations on Christmas trees at public gatherings was issued today by State Fire Marshal Sherman V. Coultas.

"Despite warnings of previous years, the lighted candle is a hazard which must be contended with each holiday season," Coultas said, pointing out that one such condition already has been called to his attention.

Deputy fire marshals and chiefs of fire departments have been advised to "take necessary action" against such violations of the fire law, Coultas said.

WHITE HOUSE PLANS

Washington, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Christmas festivities at the White House this year will come in two—two family dinners, two parties for young people and two Christmas trees.

One of the dinners will be at the luncheon hour, when grandchildren of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will attend. The other will be Christmas night for the grownups. There will be a children's party Dec. 27. Little Sara Roosevelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Roosevelt, will share honors with her cousin, young "Bill" Roosevelt, son of Elliott Roosevelt by his first marriage.

On Dec. 30 the President and First Lady will entertain about 400 young people at a dance for their youngest son, John, and his fiancée, Anne Clark of Boston.

Choice of Chimneys

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. also will be present although they will spend Christmas Day with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dupont, near Wilmington, Del.

The First Lady is going to help decorate four trees, one at New York City for the Women's Trade Union League, one at Hyde Park, N. Y., and the two in the White House. There will be a big tree in the formal East Room and another, just for the family, upstairs.

On the night before Christmas Roosevelt will read Dickens' "Christmas Carol," in accordance with the family custom. Stockings will be opened in the President's bedroom early Christmas morning. Incidentally, the White House gives Santa Claus a choice of several chimneys.

payroll clerk as one member of a drinking party.

Harvey Williams, a member of the P. M. A., testified he reported for work several days before pickets occupied the mine last September 27, and was met by Charles Bohannon, Dominic Pasquale and Joe Elbanse, whom he identified as members of the United Mine workers of America. Williams said that when he refused to sign a U. M. W. A. membership application, the trio stopped him from going to his job.

Baddock also testified that on the morning of September 27 he saw a pistol in the pocket of R. K. Moody, U. M. W. A. organizer, who was on mine property.

Vincent corroborated Braddock's testimony and said that on two occasions he saw Sitton, top boss at the mine, removing bottles of liquor from the company's office.

Several other P. M. A. members were called to the stand by defense counsel and testified they were refused permission to work on September 27 because the company had signed a contract with the U. M. W. A.

Yesterday Judge J. Leroy Adair overruled a defense motion to discontinue the hearing on grounds that the plaintiffs had failed to prove damages of $3,000, necessary to bring the case into Federal court.

A temporary injunction to restrain picketing was granted in Chicago on November 23.

Connecticut is called the "nutmeg state" because of an alleged practice of some early citizens of manufacturing and selling wooden nutmegs as genuine.

FARMER'S WIFE USES DYNAMITE TO OPEN DITCH

Sets Off Blast for Drain Built Without Plow or Shovel

Without horses, tractor, plows, scrapers or even a hand shovel, A. W. Deem, near Moline, Henry county, recently put in a 700-foot drainage ditch to drain the water from a 15-acre field that had formerly been unfit for cultivation, according to T. A. Pitzer, extension specialist in agricultural engineering, college of agriculture, University of Illinois. The ditching was done by dynamite set off by Mrs. Deem.

Witnessed by more than 60 neighboring farmers, the ditching dynamite demonstration probably establishes a record for that section of the state for small expense and time and labor saved in ditch construction.

Aside from the work of clearing away brush where the ditch was to go, the job was done in less than eight hours, resulting in an excavation 700 feet long, 5 1-2 feet wide and 3 1-2 feet deep, with water running through it. The cost for five boxes of ditching dynamite and five caps was $60.

Assisting Pitzer in the demonstration were H. K. Danforth, Henry county farm adviser, and T. M. Keyser, commercial extension specialist in explosives.

The only preparation, besides cutting away brush was a line of holes for the dynamite cartridges made with a round pointed punch bar. The holes were punched about 20 inches deep every 16 inches along a cord stretched to mark the center of the proposed ditch.

After a few instructions on how to twist the handle on the blasting machine, Mrs. Deem fired the three shots which opened the ditch. One cartridge on the end of the line was set off with a cap. This set off the others by concussion transmitted through the water in the soil. Had there been more moisture in the soil the entire ditch could have been blown with one shot, Pitzer explained.

Deem estimated that the three dynamite charges removed the equivalent of 350 wagon loads of earth. The dirt was spread on each side of the ditch for a distance of 150 feet, lying on the ground much as manure would be spread.

Water which had been slow in draining from the field immediately flowed into the ditch which was ready to use without further work. The ditch was even in both depth and width.

Sitdowners Given Suspended Penalty

Davenport, Ia., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Sixteen employees of the Kohrs Packing Co., who were arrested Tuesday when they attempted a sitdown strike in the cold storage department, were found guilty on disorderly conduct charges last yesterday by Police Magistrate John A. Hornby and were given suspended fines of $10 and costs each.

The cases of three local union business agents who were similarly charged were dismissed.

Counsel for the strikers indicated they might file an appeal. Company officials said today that operations at the plant have not been interrupted by the strike.

HOLD SCHOOL IN CHURCHES

Marion, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Pupils of the Crab Orchard, Ill., grade and high school, which were destroyed by fire Monday, will hold classes in two Crab Orchard churches beginning Monday, school officials said today.

Travel Tips

Timely Suggestions by Miss Dede Welch of Chicago Motor Club

The mystery of the jungle, the beauty of a garden—put them together and you have the unique place of enchantment, McKee Jungle gardens. Florida with all her marvels has no attraction more outstanding.

Here, three miles south of Vero beach on Florida's east coast, are eighty acres transformed from the primeval wilderness into an exhibit of rare tropical plants, plants that have been gathered from every corner of the earth to form a collection unequalled anywhere. Yet so skillfully has the transplanting been done the visitor is unconscious of the hand of man and the whole seems like a dream from the Arabian Nights.

The gardens are a living, growing monument to the vision, the patience and the industry of Arthur G. McKee and Waldo E. Sexton, his associate. The work was begun in the early part of 1931 upon a jungle which stood as the Seminole Indians left it, penetrable only by machetes and muscle. Slightly over a year later the gardens were opened and each year since then new marvels have been added.

While the collection of the many unusual plants, trees and shrubs is remarkable in itself, of still greater interest is the extraordinary way the transplanted wonders flourish in their new environment. Bamboos push their way skyward to nearly twice their normal height, palms are found growing in the crotches of enormous live oaks and everywhere are miracles as amazing to the skilled horticulturist as they are to the layman.

The stately palms, the delicate floral beauty of the bougainvillea, the brilliance of pink, lavender and magenta blooms are but a part of the interest of the garden which includes all sorts of curiosities. Here are trees which make and store 124 gallons of palm wine apiece, coffee bushes, para rubber trees, native British Gunan sea grape plants with leaves larger than any hard-wood plant in the world, and elkhorn ferns growing out of rotting logs.

The tropical water lilies are worthy of special attention. Here is the largest collection growing outdoors the year 'round in America. Some of the varieties are exclusive, having been developed by the garden horticulturist. Contrasting with the fragrant lilies—paper white, lavender, rose and blue—are such vampires of the jungle as the insect-eating plant and the "Strangler Fig." The latter, an innocent looking vine, sends a green shoot up the trunk of a stalwart oak or palm and in a few years strangles its victim to death.

AIRPLANE FIGHTS FROST

Pahokee, Fla.—(AP)—Airplanes have been used for some time to dust crops with powder to kill bugs but an aviator in this section and another near Ocala recently flew low over crop patches in an effort to keep down frost damage. There was a difference of opinion about the effectiveness of this method of crop protection.

CHANGE OF VENUE FOR MORRIS SUIT COURT'S ORDER

Asks $20,000,000 On Unlawful Seizure Allegations

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Joseph E. Daily of Peoria county was ordered by the Illinois Supreme Court today to assign to another court on a change of venue the suit of Sarah A. Morris of Tazewell county, who asks $20,000,000 from Fred W. Nussbaum of unlawful seizure allegations.

Previously the Peoria Circuit court granted the change of venue but failed to reassign the case. Petitions for rehearing were denied Paul Diekelmann, sentenced to 30 years imprisonment in Cook county for kidnaping Dorothy Hu-bick, and Harry C. Shaver, convicted in Chicago of violating the medical practice act.

The Supreme court refused also to rehear its reversal of the Ver-milion circuit mandamus writ ordering that the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company be given a malt beverage plant.

A rehearing also was denied in the Cook county case, in which the court held that electricity can be stolen.

A class of 324 new attorneys is to be admitted to the bar a week from today. Most are from Chicago. Downstaters to be admitted on foreign licenses include William F. Stern, Decatur.

Goodbye Kiss

Mr. Straus Bids Farewell to $134,000,000 Just Like That

Washington, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Nathan Straus, administrator of the government's new $576,000,000 low-rent housing program, expressed determination today to keep rents down to what slum-dwellers can pay.

He declared the United States Housing Authority would not attempt to regain the $134,000,000 already invested in "model" low-rent dwellings by the Public Works Administration.

"We could not operate at rentals within the needs of slum-dwellers and pay off the government's investment," he explained. Straus said rents on housing projects would be set at "5, 6 and 6.50 per room, per month," compared with about $7 under the PWA management.

He began his own housing program, under which money will be loaned to cities for slum-clearance and low-rent housing, by earmarking $30,500,000 for projects in eight cities.

Pittsburgh and Detroit were allocated $10,000,000 each, while the remainder was distributed among Bridgeport, Conn.; Syracuse, N. Y.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Columbus, O.; East St. Louis, Ill.; and Annapolis, Md.

Straus said he would set aside funds for other cities later this week.

He received word from the Capitol late yesterday that the senate had confirmed his appointment.

Venerable Stage Actress Cheered

Columbia, Mo., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Insistent cheers called a 65-year-old Maude Adams back to the stage last night after another successful performance of Rostand's "Chantecler."

As thrilled as when nearly three decades ago she had her own first night as the star of the French play, Miss Adams told her audience:

"My work with this play has given me something I will cherish the rest of my life. You have made me very happy."

A capacity crowd of nearly 1,000 lavished applause as a cast of 150 Stephens college girls revived, under the famous actress' directorship, the play which gave Miss Adams one of her two favorite roles.

Miss Adams recently ended several years retirement to teach dramatics at Stephens college.

Despondent Woman Hangs Herself in Chicago Hotel Room

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(AP)—A woman police identified as Mrs. Thelma Mason, 24, of Herrin, Ill., was found hanged in her room in a West Madison street hotel last night.

Mrs. Harriet Anderson, 28, a loop tavern employee, told police she met Mrs. Mason on a Chicago-bound train in Wisconsin a week ago and that she complained of a "string of bad breaks."

"She told me she was on her way to Chicago to get a job," Mrs. Anderson said. "I took her with me and she was out early and back late every day but she couldn't find a thing. What little money she had ran out so I gave her a little to keep from starving."

The body was found by K. E. Berkey, hotel manager, after Mrs. Anderson told him she was unable to reach the young woman during the day.

In Mrs. Mason's purse police found a card which bore the names of Mrs. W. H. Pierce, Herrin, Ill., believed to be her grandmother, and Mrs. Myrtle Freres of Marion, Ill.

Strikes and Spares

The fourth week of the C. O. F. bowling tournament ended with the Barbers still in first place and last year's champs, the Bears, in last position. Much has been said pro and con concerning the predicament of the Bears, but in spite of some excellent bowling they always seem to come out on the short end of the score. However, they are not entirely out of the race as yet and with the possibility of hitting their old winning stride may yet furnish the fans with considerable excitement. High score for the week as turned in by Jacob Michel, captain of the Barbers, with a total of 548 pins for the three games played. Leslie Corwin captured second place with a total of 535, and O. L. Gehant Jr. third with 533.

Women's Clubs Seek to Rid Highways of Signboards

Alexandria, Va.—Adoption of state legislation providing for restriction of unsightly billboards and small signs along Virginia highways will be sought by approximately 40,000 members of five women's clubs at the next meeting of the legislature, it was revealed last night by Mrs. George Sloane of Warrenton at a banquet of the Alexandria Garden club at the John Mason hotel here.

Mrs. Sloane, chairman of the Associated Clubs of Virginia for Roadside Development, outlined the program which will be advocated by the Garden clubs of Virginia, the Federation of Women's Clubs of Virginia, the Council for Protection of Roadside Beauty and the Home Demonstration Clubs of Virginia.

Call for Permit Fee

The legislation for which the united clubs will seek passage, Mrs. Sloane said, will call for the payment of a state license and permit fee by highway advertising companies, the amount of the fee to be fixed in accordance with the size of the sign; the advertising companies to obtain written permission from property owners before permits will be granted; the setting back quite a distance (about 500 feet) from the roadway of signs and billboards at turns or near intersections as a safety measure, and enforcement of the legislation by the state highway commissioner.

At present the various clubs are working toward beautification of homes and surroundings, the improvement of the appearance of gasoline stations sign and billboard elimination, and the improvement of the appearance of mail boxes on rural routes, Mrs. Sloane declared.

A survey of the state senate and house, Mrs. Sloane said, showed that a majority of the members were in favor of the clubs' program. She added, however, that additional aid was needed, particularly in the senate.

"Traveling at 40 miles per hour," Mrs. Sloane declared, "a motorist would pass one billboard every 10 seconds on the average." She added that the watching of these signs by automobile drivers often led to accidents.

Other of State Users
"About 88 per cent of the highway advertising is done by out-of-state business concerns," Mrs. Sloane told the approximately 100 persons present, "with but 12 per cent of the advertisers being state firms."

Mrs. Sloane's talk, which was received enthusiastically, was illustrated by picture slides showing present conditions, improvements and beauty of highways in sections not marred by "unsightly" advertising. She praised the work along these lines accomplished in New York, Massachusetts, Maine, Connecticut and other states.

Attorney Charles H. Smith of Alexandria pointed out that the tourist business was the second largest business in Virginia last year. A state with so many natural beauty spots and of such historical importance should not be "mutilated" in such a way, he said.

"If you want to attract the tourists you must make the state attractive," he declared, in advocating abolition of the highway advertising.

State Senator John W. Rust of Fairfax county pledged his support in the fight for elimination of such advertising.

Other speakers at the meeting included Mrs. Charles H. Smith, president of the Alexandria Garden club, and John Lomax Hunter, columnist for the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

DEATHS ACCIDENTAL

East St. Louis, Ill.—(AP)—The deaths of Victor Dellamano, 42, Granite City, and Mrs. Edward Musso, 32, Collinsville, were held accidental by a coroner's jury here yesterday. They were found dead in a parked automobile early last Tuesday. Carbon monoxide fumes from the automobile exhaust were blamed for the deaths.

TO MAIL LICENSE PLATES
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announced today that the mailing of 1938 automobile license plates will start Dec. 15. The lower numbered plates will be sent out first, as a numerical sequence is followed in their manufacture. Any car purchased after Dec. 6 does not require a 1937 license, Hughes said.

Taxis in Lisbon, Portugal, are required by a new law to take a weekly day of rest.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
ROBERT BARRY—hero, explorer.
MISS LISA LANE—heroine, Barry's partner.
HONEY BEE GIRL—Indian; member of Barry's party.
HADES JONES—pioneer; member Barry's party.

Yesterday, Bob and Melissa are escorted down and out of the cavern and into a lost world—a world of strange ancient Indians who know no English and who worship the sun.

CHAPTER XVIII

ROBERT BARRY was a trained scientist, specializing in the antiquities of man, fascinated always by their history, their manners, customs, languages. Because North American man seems literally to have been cradled in our Southwest, Bob Barry had centered his studies there. He knew many things from books and professors, many more from work in the field. And—common sense taught him not a few.

"Remember the feller starving to death in Paris, Lissa?"

"What are you talking about?" she laughed at him. They had maneuvered to get more food, and a couple of hours for rest and sleep.

"The American who saved his life with a pencil," Bob resumed. "He was trying to make the cave waiter understand him. Finally in desperation he sketched a picture of a cow, and so had a sizzling T-bone steak for dinner."

She laughed again. "Will you order T-bones now?" she suggested. "And you might draw a chicken and a bakery and a dish of peas, if your art is dependable."

He grinned, but he was serious too. He had some ideas. They had been resting inside a windowless room, on floor beds made of grass and woven fiber blankets. Brown folk peered in the lone door from time to time. Evidently these watchful ones saw when they awoke, for a crowd greeted them outside again.

For two hours and more, then, Bob Barry "conversed" with the man who had accepted the watch. He was what he appeared to be—the leader, or chieftain. He wore more clothes than the others, but clothing in general evidently was not a bother to these folk; his pieces were ornamental, marks of distinction and rank.

BOB'S hunch was right. The brown chief could understand much of the sign language which is universal among wilderness people. It is not always the same in every nation, but there is invariably a similarity. Close observers can "interpret" it readily, for after all it is communication reduced to the simplest of motions, about the things common to all. Bob could understand more of it than he could "speak," which is usual with any foreign language. But he labored at it, not unpleasantly, for most of the afternoon.

"Listen Lissa, we've stumbled onto something bigger and stranger than we could have hoped for in our wildest dreams." Bob was beaming when he joined Mary Melissa again. She had waited near the chieftain's house.

"Could you understand him, Bob? Did you learn much?"

"Plenty! It wasn't all easy, for him or me either, but we had a great talk. These people are not Indians. I'm convinced of that. I mean, not any tribes we know or have record of. They may be kin to the Hopis and Zunis and Acomas, but they're a tribe of their own, right enough."

"Why Lissa honey, know what that old chief told me? This is the answer to our main question. This tribe is the remnant of the cliff dwellers!"

"Really, Bob?"

"Yes! Centuries ago, evidently, the ancestors of these villagers built Defiance Castle, and lived up there for protection. They farmed this valley, which has some springs in it; and the river courses on the other side of the cliff near our camp, remember? But enemies came raiding. They killed most of the other cliff dwellers, or took off the girls to be slaves. Probably the enemies were Yaquis, or Apaches."

"This castle, though, was hardest to attack, because it was so high and hard to get at."

"Then what happened, Bob?" The girl was intensely interested.

"These people, I mean their ancestors, made a smart move. They destroyed their front ladders, such as we built, abandoned their cliff home, and came into this hidden valley to live. The enemies didn't know about this valley, and there was enough rich soil here to support the few surviving cliff people. See?"

"Yes, but wouldn't the raiders find this valley in time?"

"No, they didn't. The raiders didn't live in this area. They

 "Favoritism"

One member of the family received a very interesting toy; the other two members immediately designed it! What a problem! Should we buy two others to match the first or destroy the first that we might preserve the peace?

How gratifying to know that God has no favorites! His gifts and blessings are available to all who call upon Him. "Ye have not because ye ask not," said Jesus. "He sends his rain upon the just and upon the unjust." No favorites! Why not enjoy what you might?

Bible school at 10 A. M. Carl Dawson, supt.

The school is arranging a splendid Christmas exercise for Christmas Eve. A comedy, by six young people, entitled, "How Christmas Came to Aunt Kate." Exercises by the Junior department, and Christ-came in from many miles away. When they thought all the cliff people had been killed or fled, they ceased coming.

"But Bob, why haven't white people found it? You say it's new to science, and these people are living as they did 500 years ago."

"Look around us, Lissa. See the great cliffs—there! And there? And on all sides? This really is a wide box canyon, a shut-in valley."

It was all sort of fantastic, but it made sense. The Lost People—Bob formally named them that—were indeed a turn-back of the human calendar. Their kingdom would be a microscopic point on the vast map of the United States or of Mexico. And by a freak of geography and circumstance, they had remained completely isolated from all the rest of the world, unknown to it, and it unknown to them. Probably it could have happened nowhere else in North America save in this arid, almost unknown southwest.

"At least that's the best I can do at interpreting the story old what'shisname told me."

Bob concluded, to Melissa, "except for one rather important thing. In fact, I think it's extremely important to you and me, Melissa."

"What is it, Bob? What did he say about us?"

"Why these Lost People think we're messengers from their god, the Sun. We're pretty important, demi-gods or something. We brought them a watch, yellow and shiny, a piece of the sun, as you observed. Now they beg us not to destroy them, not to reveal them to their ancient enemies outside. See?"

"Oh! I can't imagine all this. I just can't, Bob. It wouldn't be possible, if it weren't true!"

"Check, I agree. But here we are. Facts are facts. They never saw white people before, especially a beautiful white girl. You impress them tremendously, sweetheart. I mean, you're a greater sun god than I, because you're fairer, daintier, I imagine. They're going to stage a big party a pow-wow and dance and all that, for our benefit. . . Scared?"

Mary Melissa was so frightened at all this that she trembled a bit. But she dimpled at Bob Barry.

"Never, with you here, dear?" she declared.

Neutrality Bloc Seeks Revision Of Neutrality Law

Washington, Dec. 9—(AP)—Members of the neutrality bloc in Congress have decided, an informed person said, to approach President Roosevelt "in a cooperative spirit" to seek his views on possible revision of the neutrality law.

"We want the president to understand that we wish to cooperate with him in doing whatever we can to keep the United States at peace," said one senator who preferred not to be quoted by name.

"We want to ask him to give us his reasons for not invoking the neutrality act in the Sino-Japanese war. Perhaps they are such that the act should not be invoked. And perhaps he has some suggestion for a revision of the law."

If the law were invoked, an embargo automatically would result on shipments of war supplies to countries formally decreed to be at war. Other purchases by belligerent nations in the United States could be put on a "cash and carry" basis.

GOLDEN AGE OF ROME HONORED BY ITALIANS

Vast Exhibit Lures Thousands To 50-Room Building

Naming the month of August for Emperor Augustus was not enough for Rome's first emperor. The ruler's fame now is being celebrated by a vast exhibit which is luring thousands of Italians and tourists to a new fifty-room building in Rome's Via Nazionale.

"The exhibit contains a priceless collection of models and museum pieces recalling the 'Golden Age' in which Augustus reigned," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Ancient Rome on Display

"Two hundred scale models of dwellings, amphitheaters, triumphal arches, baths, bridges, aqueducts, and other structures like those of ancient Rome, are on display as well as several thousand plaster replicas of historic objects in bronze and marble now preserved in museums in Europe and America."

"The Rome Augustus ruled (B. C. 27-A. D. 14) teemed with a million inhabitants. Its wealthy residents lived a social, outdoor life, strolling in white woolen togas through shaded marble colonnades and gardens flecked with splashing fountains. Wealthy men were followed by crowds of friends and servants. Romans spent more time in public places than in their homes. In the baths they met their friends; at the circuses they watched chariot races and gladiatorial contests. They made sacrifices to the gods in temples. In the crowded Forum they heard the orations of Cicero and the latest news from the provinces, and conducted the business of the Empire."

Roman 'Tenement Houses'

"One of the outstanding exhibits is a furnished replica of a wealthy Roman's home. Such homes were usually one or two stories high, were built around a central hall, like those in Pompeii, and many had private water supplies."

"Poorer classes lived herded together in tall 'tenement houses' usually from four to seven stories high, and obtained their water from public fountains. Of flimsy construction, these buildings were the cause of frequent fires and often some of them collapsed. Dark, unheated, and uninviting, they flanked narrow streets congested with donkeys, horses, and slaves. Rome was so noisy and crowded that wealthy citizens built country villas at Pompeii and elsewhere."

"Augustus is said to have boasted that he found Rome of brick and left it of marble. He rebuilt numerous temples and other buildings. Still standing in modern Rome are remains of the Portico of Octavia which he completed and named for his sister. Nearby stands the ruined theater of Marcellus, finished by Augustus, and named for Octavia's son. Rome has recently reconstructed the Altar of Peace built by Augustus to celebrate the reestablishment of peace after his campaigns in Gaul and Spain. In the year 2 B. C. he

Accused in K. C. Juror 'Racket'

While Kansas City, Mo., courts were idle as authorities investigated a "jury racket," police sought George "Frenchy" Andre, above, charged with selling jury summons at $1 each. Two deputy sheriffs admitted hiring Andre to deliver summons. Held on a misdemeanor charge was Herbert V. Daniels, below, who served under three different names in three divisions of circuit court in three weeks.

built an additional Forum to commemorate the battle of Philippi. "More important to his subjects than his memorials were the Emperor's public works. He drained the surrounding malarial country, repaired the huge stone aqueducts that spanned it, and built new ones. He constructed good roads into the city. Wine wagons rolled over them as they do now. Into the capital poured corn from Sicily, and other commodities from Sardinia, Africa, and the East. From Egypt Augustus brought obelisks to adorn Rome's public places, and from Africa wild beasts to be slaughtered, hundreds at a time, in the arena."

"In an effort to reform Rome, the Emperor organized a strong police system. He also extended the boundaries of the Roman Empire. In the Forum he set up a golden milestone from which distances were measured to every part of the provinces. The Mediterranean, he felt, was his lake, and most of the lands surrounding it were made Roman provinces. His mailed legions went clanking through what is now Yugoslavia, Spain, France, and Germany, his fleets sailed the Rhine and Danube, and wherever he established fortified colonies, triumphal arches, bridges and aqueducts were built. Today, their crumbling massive remains, scattered throughout Europe, recall the strength and the dignity of the 'Golden Age'."

Babson Economist Gives His Outlook on Investment Business

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 9.—Roger W. Babson, famous economist, in an address at the Penn Athletic club here this afternoon, said: "Perhaps I can best describe the extraordinary conditions today by talking about 'sit-down' strikes. There surely have been three of these during 1937, each operated by an entirely different group of people. These three groups of strikers have been the primary cause of the present slump. Yet, as an antidote for the poison, one more sit-down strike may be needed to clean up the situation. I believe that we will see another sit-down strike in 1938 which will end the present slump. Let me explain what I mean."

A Sit-Down Labor Strike

Every year has some outstanding feature. In 1937 this was the sit-down labor strikes prevalent throughout America. The first of these was in the motor industry, followed by sit-downs in various industries throughout the country. A year ago labor was riding high and handsome. Labor in the spring of 1937 was enjoying a boom such as the stock market was enjoying in the spring of 1929. Labor leaders, however, over-reached this year as the bankers over-reached in 1929. This labor sit-down strike was very effective in forcing employers to increase wages and in forcing Congress to reduce hours. Labor leaders have since learned, however, that no sit-down strike will force the public to buy goods.

During the past two years, labor has been enjoying a honeymoon along with F. D. R. Both of these honeymoons are now over for a while. The year 1938, therefore, will see fewer strikes, almost no wage increases and many wage reductions. Unfortunately, 1938 may see more unemployment than was witnessed in 1937. Labor leaders so scared employers this spring that these employers ordered much new labor-saving machinery. This new labor-saving machinery is just being delivered; but it will be in full operation during 1938. In the long run employment adjusts itself in connection with increased production and new industries; but in the meantime, the workers suffer. In this case, however, they have only John L. Lewis to blame. But who is to blame, these labor strikes were the first cause of the present slump.

A Sit-Down Investors' Strike

The labor group was not the only group which has used the sit-down strike during 1937. My mother used to say to me, when I was a boy in Gloucester, Mass., that "even a worm will turn at last if it is abused too much." Well, for some years Congress has been abusing Wall Street. No doubt Wall Street needed a spanking when the Democratic administration came in to power five years ago. It, however, does no good to spank a boy or whip a dog too long or too much. It may do harm. Congress over-did its Wall Street whippings and finally—like a whipped dog—Wall Street just sat down in the corner, discouraged and resentful. It has retarded the sale of bond and stock issues, hence preventing corporations from securing funds for extensions and new industries.

Yes, Wall Street has been on a sit-down investors' strike since last August. As a result, many stock and bond prices have declined tremendously. Confidence has been undermined and re-employment slowed up. These investors' strikes were the second cause of the present slump. Of course, both confidence and re-employment will be resumed some day. Before this great Recovery Movement has culminated, you, therefore, should see higher prices for stocks and commodities than you have seen yet in 1937. All sit-down strikes sometimes come to an end. My Wall Street friends will soon get over their grouse. The worst of their sit-down strike is now over. Hence, I am now a bull on stocks, commodities and medium-grade bonds for 1938.

A Sit-Down Buyers' Strike

Unfortunately, however, a third group of people are now starting another sit-down strike. Mr. John Q. Public and his friends are now on a sit-down buyers' strike. Higher wages and shorter hours ultimately result in higher prices. When your wages are raised 10 per cent, then your cost of living goes up 10 per cent. Too bad it is so, but no labor union or Congressional legislation can change the multiplication table. Therefore, when Mr. John Q. Public went to buy a new overcoat this fall he found the price had gone up, due to increased labor and other manufacturing costs. Did Mr. John Q. Public buy a new overcoat? No! He decided to wait another year.

Incidentally, Mr. Public shows good sense. Not only will labor be more efficient next spring, but 1938 overcoats will be made of 70 per cent wool while this year's overcoats are made of 1 wool. Now there are millions of people named John Q. Public. They are now on a sit-down buyers' strike waiting for next year's clothing which will be made with more efficient labor and of cheaper wool. They are waiting for next year's sheets, towels, and pillow-cases which will be made by more efficient labor and from very much lower priced cotton. They are waiting for next year's shoes which will be made by more efficient labor and from very much lower priced leather. This third strike, where the buyers are sitting down at home, instead of going out shopping, is the final reason for the present slump.

One More Sit-Down Strike?

To correct the picture there ought to be one more sit-down strike! Congress should go on a sit-down strike and refuse to longer be a rubber stamp for the White House. This brings us right up-to-date.

There is no economic reason for the present slump in business or securities. We have completely conquered the sit-down strikes of two groups. The public, which makes up the third group, is reasonable and willing to quit its buyers' strike; but to bring this about Congress must show some sense and courage. Congress should remember that so long as we are working under the present economic system, business leaders must be encouraged—not persecuted—if the people are to enjoy employment and the federal government is to balance its budget. I believe Congress will see the light and do this. Hence, I believe that the present slump is only temporary. Much better business is ahead. Do not lose faith in America yet.

Because of the scarcity of vegetables early American settlers used a great deal of meat in their cooking, and the abundance of meat is still the first characteristic of American cookery.

The bureau of agricultural economics estimates the production increase in vegetable oils from major crops like soybeans, cottonseed, corn and peanuts to be 500,000,000 pounds a year.
